

Dear Parent,

As your son or daughter takes a step of faith to apply for Engage, Go Global's 10-12 month overseas internship program, you are likely experiencing a wide variety of emotions. We at Go Global are excited for your son or daughter to live out the Great Commission, however, we understand you might have some concerns. We hope you will be comforted as you learn more about Go Global's Engage program.

Go Global was founded by a group of like-minded pastors and ministry leaders with a desire to raise up a passionate, "going" generation. The desire is to expose, ignite and encourage hearts for world missions and to support local churches, existing organizations and projects worldwide through strategic partnership. Engage interns will serve the ministries of our established, long-term missionary partners. During their stay in India, Uganda, or Swaziland, interns will complete 35-40 hours per week of service with the local ministry. Interns will also participate in an intentional discipleship program with the Go Global Intern Director, which includes small group meetings, in-country training, daily devotional time, and development of a personal growth plan. Go Global is dedicated to providing opportunities for spiritual growth while assisting interns in developing skills and expanding their knowledge of a different culture. The growth they experience will not only set them up for success on the mission field, but in life - whether they continue in long-term missions or return to a local ministry and/or career.

To ensure full benefit of the experience, Engage interns will not be allowed to return home during the 10-12 month time period, however, friends and family are allowed to visit once, within a timeframe determined by Go Global.

Specific living conditions will vary by location, however, please know that Go Global makes every effort to place interns in comfortable, clean and safe housing. Go Global and its partners will also ensure access to adequate healthcare facilities. Keep in mind that each intern is required to pass a medical and psychological screening prior to departure.

The cost of the Engage program will cover airfare, lodging, cell phone, ground transportation, stipend for personal expenses and visa. Also, Go Global will provide fundraising guidance. We want to help prepare your child for success on the field.

As interns fundraise and prepare their hearts and minds to make a global impact, parental support is greatly desired and appreciated. We hope you feel honored by your son or daughter's passion to help the lost and hurting people in the world. Your son or daughter's previous missions experience likely fanned the flame burning in his or her heart to reach the nations for Christ. We are excited about their interest in joining the team! Feel free to contact us at 866-543-3750 if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Pastor Mundo Meneses
